The "bigger bang" RRSP strategy

Crunch the numbers with us advisor to see if an RRSP loan is right for you.

As the calendar year winds down, many Canadians start thinking about contributing to a Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP). Whether they make a single lump-sum contribution each year or contribute year-round with a "top up" before the annual RRSP deadline,^[1] there's a strategy that can help save more taxes this year and provide a head start on tax-deferred compounding.

The first step is to work with an advisor to determine how much to contribute to help reach retirement goals. Of course, not everyone has enough cash on hand to contribute that ideal amount. In that case, there are two options:

1. Contribute an affordable amount now and contribute the resulting tax refund when it arrives.

Let's say someone with a marginal tax rate of 40 per cent has $7,000 ready to contribute during the first 60 days of 2021 to claim a deduction on his/her 2020 tax return. The tax refund of $2,800 ($7,000 x 40 per cent) can be contributed when received and claimed on his/her 2021 tax return. This is a better strategy than simply spending the refund, because it results in a total RRSP contribution of $9,800. However, there is an alternative.

2. Contribute a higher amount now, using an RRSP loan, and pay off the loan with the resulting tax refund.^[2]

Taking out an RRSP loan in the amount of the estimated tax refund makes it possible to contribute a higher amount during the first 60 days of the year. The loan can then be paid off in full when the tax refund arrives. The result is a bigger tax refund for the 2020 tax year and more money growing earlier in a tax-deferred plan.

Sample calculations

Here's how to calculate a loan amount that can be completely repaid with the tax refund:

(cash on hand x marginal tax rate) / (100% - marginal tax rate)
In our example (for illustration purposes only):
($7,000 x 40%) = $4,667 loan
60%

Borrowing $4,667 boosts the total RRSP contribution to $11,667 from $9,800 – an extra $1,867 – and the entire amount can be claimed as a deduction on a 2020 tax return.

Tax refunds generally take no more than eight to 10 weeks to arrive – and returns filed early and electronically are often processed by the Canada Revenue Agency within 10 days. Even if a refund takes a full 90 days to arrive, the cost of the RRSP loan minimal – in this example, just $34.

What to look for in an RRSP loan

Many institutions offer RRSP loans at very competitive interest rates, and some will defer the payments long enough so that you have plenty of time to receive your refund before making the first installment. Interest accrues on the outstanding balance, but the loan can be paid in full without penalty at any time.

Ideal candidates
An RRSP Loan strategy is best suited for those who:

- Want to make an RRSP contribution in the first 60 days of the calendar year
- Have less cash on hand than the amount of the RRSP contribution they want to make
- Have sufficient RRSP contribution room to accommodate the top-up provided by the RRSP loan

Speak with your advisor

Carefully evaluate the pros and cons of an RRSP loan strategy with your advisor. If you decide together that it is an appropriate approach for you:

- Calculate your estimated tax refund for the year
- Apply for an RRSP loan in that amount
- Use the tax refund to repay the RRSP loan

Borrowing to invest in an RRSP may not be appropriate for everyone. You will need the financial means to meet your loan obligations in full. Talk to us to find out more about the advantages and obligations of borrowing to invest.

[1] The RRSP deadline is 60 days after the end of the year.

[2] This strategy assumes that there are no other factors that would impact the total tax refund.

REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT AUDITORS ON THE SUMMARY CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

To the Mayor and Councillors
TOWN OF ROCANVILLE

Opinion
The summary consolidated financial statements, which comprise the statement of consolidated financial position as at December 31, 2020 and the consolidated statement of operations for the year then ended, are derived from the audited consolidated financial statements of the TOWN OF ROCANVILLE for the year ended December 31, 2020. We expressed a qualified audit opinion on those financial statements in our report dated June 25, 2021.

In our opinion, the accompanying summary consolidated financial statements are a fair summary of the audited consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards. However, the summary consolidated financial statements are misstated to the equivalent extent as the audited consolidated financial statements of the Town of Rocanville for the year ended December 31, 2020.

Summary Financial Statements
The summary consolidated financial statements do not contain all the disclosures required by Canadian public sector accounting standards. Reading the summary consolidated financial statements and the auditors' report thereon, therefore, is not a substitute for reading the municipality's audited consolidated financial statements and the auditors' report thereon.

The Audited Financial Statements and Our Report Thereon
We expressed a qualified audit opinion on the audited consolidated financial statements in our report dated June 25, 2021.

Our qualified audit opinion is based on the fact that Recreation Boards derive revenue from various sources the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification.

Management's Responsibility for the Summary Consolidated Financial Statements
Management is responsible for the preparation of the summary consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Auditors' Responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the summary consolidated financial statements are a fair summary of the audited consolidated financial statements based on our procedures, which were conducted in accordance with Canadian Auditing Standard (CAS) 810, "Engagements to Report on Summary Financial Statements."
