Compost Collection

Please note that the last compost collection for spring will be Monday 17th June from the back alleys only.

UNLESS IT IS TREE BRANCHES EVERYTHING SHOULD BE BAGGED IN COMPOSTABLE MATERIAL

PROPERTY FENCES & CAMPERS

FOR THOSE WANTING TO PUT UP PROPERTY FENCES THE TOWN BYLAW PERMITS FENCE HEIGHTS OF 6 FEET TO THE REAR OF YOUR PROPERTY, BUT ONLY 4 FEET IN THE FRONT DUE TO SAFETY AND VISIBILITY FOR YOUR NEIGHBOURS.

CONCERNS HAVE BEEN RAISED THAT CAMPERS PARKED IN THE FRONT DRIVEWAY CAN OBSCURE VISIBILITY AND BLOCK DAYLIGHT FROM YOUR NEIGHBOURS.

COUNCIL REQUEST THAT CAMPERS ARE NOT PARKED ON DRIVEWAY'S LONGER THAN 48 HOURS AT ANY ONE TIME.

WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR CO-OPERATION IN THIS MATTER.

Dream Big Child Care Inc. is excited to announce we now will offer a casual hourly rate.

This casual hourly rate of $5 is standard for all age groups.

This is designed to offer the community a short period of time to have child care. The rate can only be used by casual children based on availability. The $5 hourly casual rate can be used for parents to attend appointments, go shopping, workout, or just have some time to them selves.

The hours of availability will vary depending on enrollment.

Please contact Megan @ 306-645-5455

for more information or to find out what times are available.

FOR LOVE AND MONEY -

Talking about money in a new(ish) relationship.

Growing into a relationship is partly about discovering the things two people have in common — from favorite activities and hobbies to shared attitudes and beliefs. And, while it may not be one of the first subjects to come up, the topic of money is bound to surface as a relationship gets more serious. Here are some things to consider when beginning to talk about money in a relationship.

romantic Timing: Every partnership is unique progresses at its own pace. Talking about money at a level that's appropriate for the relationship can help a couple develop a deeper understanding of one another. And, as the relationship develops, it can make it easier to move towards long-term financial harmony. While it might not be the best idea to ask about salary or bank account balances on a first date. it's important to get into money specifics before any milestone that has financial implications such as opening a joint bank account or moving in together. Laving the ground general through more conversations will make it easier to broach topics such as income, assets, debt, other obligations financial example, to family members) and credit history.

Many approaches: it's possible to learn a lot about how someone views money just by paving attention spending habits - for example, where do they enjoy going on dates? When you're ready to bring up the subject, consider how you best communicate on other topics. Some people may feel more comfortable easing in to the conversation slowly or hypothetical talking about situations. Inquiring about their family's situation and attitudes also help spark conversation. Did they go on family vacations, or do chores to earn an allowance?

Other couples may find a frank discussion works best for them. Asking about and sharing your own financial goals, career aspirations and how you feel about debt can be very revealing.

Be open to differences: likely there will be places where two people's current habits, past experiences and future dreams overlap – and points difference too. But even a penny-pincher and spender can still enjoy a harmonious relationship with each other. By steering clear of judgment and keeping honest. back-and forth conversation going, it's easier to find common ground and negotiate differences. As a relationship deepens, it's helpful to build a together on a solid foundation of positive communication about money. And openness about finances sets the tone for wide-ranging conversations that will help couples each their life goals, hand in hand.
